Fun Jamaica Food Facts!

- The original inhabitants of Jamaica, the Arawak, grew corn and yams. Today, the major crops of Jamaica include sugar cane, bananas, and mangoes. None of these crops are native to the island; they were imported to the island at varying times in the island's history. Coconut Palms, breadfruit, and bamboo were also imported to the island.
- The national dish of Jamaica is Ackee and Saltfish. Most people in Jamaica eat it as a breakfast dish. Ackee is a fruit that grows locally. The dish is served with dumplings that are either fried or boiled. The saltfish is cooked in a small amount of oil with peppers and onions added for taste.
- Most of the Jamaica's Blue Mountain Coffee, one of the most prized and expensive brands, is exported to Japan
